

Patrick T. McCoy

Education Professional of the Year Award

The Education Professional of the Year Award recognizes an educator (typically a professor) who has made an outstanding contribution to the transportation profession by relating academic studies to the actual practice of transportation. The award seeks to recognize transportation educators that help their students advance their professional development, enhance their opportunities to network with practicing transportation professionals, and become active participants in the profession.

The award was named for Patrick T. McCoy who served as MOVITE President and long-time transportation professor at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. Many MOVITE members trace their start in ITE as a member of the Nebraska ITE student chapter.
